

What's On - Cruise Your Way Through Autumn

Golden leaves, clear waters and purple heather...Loch Ness is a stunning place to take the family at this time of the year. But if you're looking for something different to keep the kids entertained as the days get longer, why not get a glimpse of the loch from a truly unique perspective this autumn.

Jacobite - Experience Loch Ness has joined forces with Historic Scotland to offer families a fantastic 'kids go free' deal on two if its cruises during the month of October.

Offering the perfect way to see the changing seasons, the luxury boats glide along the serene waters taking in a whole host of sights along the way. Each boat is centrally heated with refreshments available to keep any autumnal chills at bay. And with these fun-family packages every child will receive a Jacobite Jess activity pack sure to stimulate and occupy young minds

The family cruises - Freedom and Inspiration - cost from just £10.00 per adult and are free to children under the age of 16 years. Departing from the Clansman Harbour Hotel on Loch Ness, each boat trip offers its very own magical adventure.

A two-hour cruise on Freedom will set sail to beautiful Urquhart Castle, where you will have an opportunity to jump ship and explore the ancient ruins and exhibition.

If you have younger children or less time to spare, perhaps the Inspiration cruise will suit you. Once aboard you'll be transported to the deepest part of the loch and sail past the mysterious castle ruins. Just don't forget to keep an eye open for any under water movement with help from the Jacobite Sonar.

Probably the most famous Loch in the world, Loch Ness is around 23 miles long and covers an area of almost 22 square miles. At its deepest it has a depth of 754ft. Famed throughout the world for its Loch Ness monster nicknamed Nessie, there have been numerous monster sightings in the waters over the years. The first recorded account is by the Irish saint, St. Columba in the 6th century.
